

NBA FINALS PROPS SHEET

Cavs-Celtics Game 7 had 166 total points scored, and ESPN still posted an overnight rating of 9.1, which matched the highest mark ever for an NBA game. We're assuming 90% of those viewers had money on the game, because, well, it was brutal to watch. And the same might be true for Cavs-Warriors Game 1, which currently has the highest spread ever for an NBA Finals game (-12.5). While the game might not be exciting come the third quarter, we've created 10 props for you to bet with your buddies at your viewing party. So even when Steph is hitting his ninth 3-pointer and the Warriors are up 75, you'll still have a sweat going.
